SKILLS

I am a confident writer. I won essay prizes in my college years, and have been able to win grants for continuing education courses with my skill as an essayist. I have a daughter on the autism spectrum, and have become something of an expert in navigating the educational system in Atlanta, experiencing both its strengths and its shortcomings. I enjoy exercise at the East Lake YMCA and gardening at my SE Atlanta home.

REFERENCES

I can provide references from multiple students, the Trolley Patrol, as well as community leaders. Carla Smith, Leslie Grant, David Dryer, Cynthia Briscoe Brown, the NPU-W board, and the staff at Barack and Michelle Obama Academy are all familiar with my involvement in the community and my education advocacy.
